

Wedding Invitations

Below are three examples of how to word your invitations for our various menu styles.

1-Chef's Buffet, Semi Sit Down, Family Style, European Station Buffet

If you're having one of the above menus, it's not necessary to list specific entree options on the wedding invitation. Instead, you can simply state that there will be a {dinner style} without specifying the dishes.

For example:

"Please join us for a buffet dinner celebrating the wedding of [Couple's Names] [date, time, location]"

This communicates to guests that they'll be served a buffet dinner without specifying the specific entrees.

*You may provide guests with the opportunity to communicate any dietary needs via your wedding website or within the RSVP instructions. While not obligatory, guests with significant dietary restrictions typically inform you without the need for a specific prompt on the invitation.

2-Sit Down Dinner-Dual Entrée Option

If offering a dual entrée plated sit-down dinner, it's not necessary to list specific entree options on the wedding invitation. Instead, you can simply state that there will be a dual entrée of beef and chicken for each guest.

For example:

[Wedding Invitation Header]

Dear [Guest's Name],

We are delighted to invite you to celebrate the marriage of [Couple's Names]. Your presence will add to the joy of our special day.

Date: [Date] Time: [Time] Location: [Venue]

Please kindly RSVP by [RSVP Date] at [RSVP Contact Information]

Plated Dinner:

We will be serving a dual entree plated meal featuring both beef and chicken.

We look forward to sharing this memorable occasion with you.

Warmest regards,

[Your Names]

*You may provide guests with the opportunity to communicate any dietary needs via your wedding website or within the RSVP instructions. While not obligatory, guests with significant dietary restrictions typically inform you without the need for a specific prompt on the invitation.

3-Sit Down Dinner-Single Entrée “Choices” Option

If offering a single entrée choice for your plated sit-down dinner, the example below is a good starting point.

[Wedding Invitation Header]

Dear [Guest's Name],

We are delighted to invite you to celebrate the marriage of [Couple's Names]. Your presence would be an honor on this joyous occasion.

Date: [Date] Time: [Time] Location: [Venue]

Please kindly RSVP by [RSVP Date] at [RSVP Contact Information]

Meal Selection:

Please indicate your meal preference by checking one of the options below:

Chicken Beef

Your selection will help us ensure that you have a delightful dining experience during our celebration.

We look forward to sharing this special day with you.

Warmest regards,

[Your Names]

*You may provide guests with the opportunity to communicate any dietary needs via your wedding website or within the RSVP instructions. While not obligatory, guests with significant dietary restrictions typically inform you without the need for a specific prompt on the invitation.